

From The Post-Journal (Jamestown, New York)
Sunday, April 9, 2006, Vol. 179, No. 292, Section B, Page 1

‘STROM IN LIMBO’ AT JACKSON CENTER

Carl Consensus takes the stand for the defense in the play Strom In Limbo Saturday afternoon at the Robert H. Jackson Center. The performance was put on by the State University at Fredonia Theater and Dance department. Strom in Limbo focuses on former South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond, who finds himself before a Heavenly Court, presided over by Martin Luther King Jr. as judge.

P-J photo by Anastasia Conklin