

UNDERSTANDING SOURCES THROUGH ROBERT H. JACKSON

Lesson Plan for Grades 4-8

 Jackson had two sisters.	 Robert H. Jackson was born on February 13, 1892.
 Jackson's sister, Ella, was the funniest person in the family.	 Robert H. Jackson was a cute baby when he was born.
 Robert H. Jackson became a Supreme Court Justice in 1941.	 Jackson's parents were William Eldred Jackson and Angelina Houghwout.
 Robert H. Jackson was the most influential Supreme Court Justice of his era.	 Jackson's parents were the most inspiring couple in Spring Creek, PA.

UNDERSTANDING SOURCES THROUGH ROBERT H. JACKSON

Lesson Plan for Grades 4-8

 Robert H. Jackson never graduated from law school.	 Jackson was appointed Chief Prosecutor at Nuremberg by President Truman.
 Skipping law school made Robert H. Jackson a more practical and grounded lawyer.	 Jackson was the most deserving of all the appointed Nuremberg prosecutors.
 Robert H. Jackson wrote the famous opinion in West Virginia v. Barnette in 1943.	 Jackson delivered his opening statement at the Nuremberg Trials on November 21, 1945.
 Robert H. Jackson's opinion in West Virginia v. Barnette is the most eloquent defense of freedom in American history.	 Jackson's opening statement at Nuremberg was the most powerful speech in world history.